Texas On My Mind

Pat Green

I woke up this morning
Texas on my mind
Thinking about my friends there
And a girl I'd left behind
The way she held me when we kissed
The loving that we'd done
And how I left her waving goodbye standing in the Texas sunChorus:I've got a half a mind to call her
Half a mind to go
Jump a big jet liner
And wing it on my way back homeAnd all the morning it was raining on the streets of Liverpool
So I stayed in and played guitar and sang the lovesick blues
My mind kept going back in time when we both had fun
And how I left her waving to me standing in the Texas sunI've got a half a mind to call her
Half a mind to go
Jump a big jet liner
And wing it on my way back homeIn my dreams she's still in love with me
But I'd have to travel home to see
If she's found another man to take the place of me
Guess I'll have to keep on dreaming sunny memoriesWishing I was back there doesn't help me much at all
When I want to hold her it doesn't help me much to call
Stuck here in this seaport town longing for the one
That I left behind me there standing in the Texas sunI've got a half a mind to call her
Half a mind to go
Jump a big jet liner
And wing it on my way back homeI've got a half a mind to call her
Half a mind to go
Jump a big jet liner
And wing it on my way back home
