Texas On My Mind

Pat Green

I woke up this morning

Texas on my mind

Thinking about my friends there

And a girl I'd left behind

The way she held me when we kissed

The loving that we'd done

And how I left her waving goodbye standing in the Texas sunChorus:I've got a half a mind to call her

Half a mind to go

Jump a big jet liner

And wing it on my way back homeAnd all the morning it was raining on the streets of Liverpool So I stayed in and played guitar and sang the lovesick blues

My mind kept going back in time when we both had fun

And how I left her waving to me standing in the Texas sunI've got a half a mind to call her

Half a mind to go

Jump a big jet liner

And wing it on my way back homeIn my dreams she's still in love with me

But I'd have to travel home to see

If she's found another man to take the place of me

Guess I'll have to keep on dreaming sunny memoriesWishing I was back there doesn't help me much at all

When I want to hold her it doesn't help me much to call

Stuck here in this seaport town longing for the one

That I left behind me there standing in the Texas sunl've got a half a mind to call her

Half a mind to go

Jump a big jet liner

And wing it on my way back home I've got a half a mind to call her

Half a mind to go

Jump a big jet liner

And wing it on my way back home
