

We'll Take the Night

Roy Orbison

Baby, its hard sometimes to wake
And face this life everyday
Sometimes its bad enough to stop
And through the good all away Tonight lets put the world aside
And let go together
The night is one place we can hide
In each others arms, dream on forever Come on baby, and well take the night
While the stars are willing and the moon is right
Dreams are shining in a magic light
Come with me, oh, well take the night
You and me, oh, well take the night, baby, well take the night Look up and let the night unfold
Hold on to the feeling
Reach out and let it touch your soul
And give in to love, love is believing Come on baby, and well take the night
While the stars are willing and the moon is right
Dreams are shining in a magic light
Come with me, oh, well take the night
You and me, oh, well take the night If every star should fall
And tomorrow lose all meaning
We would still have had it all
Its locked away inside our hearts, there for the dreaming Come on baby, and well take the night
While the stars are willing and the moon is bright
Dreams are shining in the magic light
Come with me, oh, well take the night
You and me, oh, well take the night Come on baby, and well take the night
While the stars are willing and the moon is bright
Dream are shining in a magic light
Come with me, oh, well take the night
You and me, yeah, well take the night
