Tonite

Jarvis Cocker

It all starts tonight, tonight's the night I guess
So let's go take some drugs and let's go have some sex
The first time it's alright
The future starts tonightAnd you cannot make everything alright
But you could stop being wrong
Tonight
TonightAnd someone's getting born and someone's getting killed
Somebody falls in love, somebody falls from a window sill
But you, you just sit tight
Hiding out from lifeOh and you cannot set the world to right
But you could stop being wrong
Oh, tonight
Yeah, tonightOh well, the past devours the future, the world is changing shape
And someone's getting a piercing done for goodness sake
Tonight, tonight, tonight
Yeah, tonightOh and all the culture vultures and all the snot nosed kids
And all the so called artists, wannabes and never did's
You claim you're not involved, but you're in up to your neck
The night belongs to lovers, so show some respectOh and you cannot set the world to rights
But you could stop being wrong
Oh, tonight
Oh, tonightOh, tonight
Oh, tonight
Oh, tonight
