This Girl

Nikki Flores

[Verse 1]There's a girl livin in this town
She's got her head up in the sky
But her feet are on the ground
There's a girl livin on my street
She knows outside her little world
Somehow ends are gonna meet
And when the road gets kinda rough
She keeps one thing in mind
The longest journey always starts with one step at a time
[Chorus]And this girl's seen a lot of pain
But this girl's gonna smile again
She knows that a flower grows everytime it rains
And this girl's got a lot of dreams
She knows that tomorrow ain't what it seems
She might not solve a mystery tonight
But this girl's gonna be alright
[Verse 2]There's a girl walking in these shoes
And she knows that everythings she got
Is all she's got to lose
There's a dream right behind these eyes
And she finds a reason to be strong with every tear she dries
Being hard to fight the way things are
So she leaves the world behind

When the sound of doubts turned up so loud
She turns the music up inside
[Chorus]And this girl's seen a lot of pain
But this girl's gonna smile again
She knows that a flower grows everytime it rains
And this girl's got a lot of dreams
She knows that tomorrow ain't what it seems
She might not solve a mystery tonight
But this girl's gonna be alright
[Bridge]She knows it's so much she's never seen
But time will allow her to find out what it means
[Chorus]And this girl's seen a lot of pain
But this girl's gonna smile again
She knows that a flower grows everytime it rains

And this girl's got a lot of dreams
She knows that tomorrow ain't what it seems
She might not solve a mystery tonight
But this girl's gonna be alright
[Fading]Alright, alright
But this girl's gonna be alright
She's gonna be alright, alright
But this girl's gonna be alright
