Cursed Destiny

Penumbra

Two worlds are within me
They live together just as one
Giving the feeling of existing
And the means of rulingI despise them both
Refusing to belong to something
As a dying slave
I have been reduced to nothingWhy do I still believe in this love?
This pathetic silly love
Selfish, coward and pitiless
This I've beenI believe in this love
Stronger by your treachery
Coward and pitiless
This is who I used to beI feel human
Can't this love defeat you
You rule this world
And you pretend to set your people freeLeave me
Release me
Let me
Blossom for eternityI'll show you the way
To free your soul
From these idolsShall I reveal the truth
Or leave them in ignorance
These puppets want to be like you
And decide on their destiny
I despise them both
Refusing to belong to something
As a dying slave
I have been reduced to nothingYour empire is but a shroud
By pure appearance
So deadly in the end
So morbid
So devastatingI believe in this love
Stronger by your treachery
Coward and pitiless
This is who I used to be
