Cursed Destiny

Penumbra

Two worlds are within me

They live together just as one

Giving the feeling of existing

And the means of ruling despise them both

Refusing to belong to something

As a dying slave

I have been reduced to nothingWhy do I still believe in this love?

This pathetic silly love

Selfish, coward and pitiless

This I've beenI believe in this love

Stronger by your treachery

Coward and pitiless

This is who I used to beI feel human

Can't this love defeat you

You rule this world

And you pretend to set your people freeLeave me

Release me

Let me

Blossom for eternityI'll show you the way

To free your soul

From these idolsShall I reveal the truth

Or leave them in ignorance

These puppets want to be like you

And decide on their destiny

I despise them both

Refusing to belong to something

As a dying slave

I have been reduced to nothing Your empire is but a shroud

By pure appearance

So deadly in the end

So morbid

So devastating I believe in this love

Stronger by your treachery

Coward and pitiless

This is who I used to be
