

Mean Goodbye

AJ Roach

Well, there's buildings in this here town that rise above the tallest mountains Yer the sky up there'll watch you with an unforgiving eye

And there are bridges in this here town Statuetts and little fountains
There ain't nothing like a mountain
If you're looking to get high

And this old place
it really dont become me
There ain't no way
to explain why

There are drugs and there are lovers
but my friend, there ain't no other

There ain't nothing like a mountain
if you're looking to get high

Well there is sadness in a womans eyes Salty as a shallow ocean she'll stare at you for ages
'til your throat is all hot and dry

There movement knows no boundry ain't no comfort in her motion there ain't nothing like a woman to learn you how to cry

And this old place
it really dont become me
there ain't no way
to explain why

There are friend and there are lovers we must choose one or the other

There aint nothing like a woman for to learn you how to cry well there's money in this here town stained with guilt of those who made it Sharp regrets the ones who lost it or the ones who its lead astray

Well the money in this here town stacks up taller the buildings in pursuit of all that money we might piss our lives away

This old place
it really dont become me
there ain't no way
to explain why

There are men and there are daughters Those that leave and those that follow there aint nothing like and air-plane
to let them know you mean goodbye

There ain't nothing like and air-plane
to let them know you mean goodbye

Lyrics submitted by James.

Lyrics provided by <https://damnlyrics.com/>