

Nobody Knows

Faces

I'm waiting here in patience
Am I waiting all in vain?
Will I see you? Will I touch you?
Will I hear you call my name?[Incomprehensible] and make Ten steps to every one step that I takeNobody comes and nobody goes
No one is happy, and no one has woes
Everything lasting, ever the same
Nothing is ending, nothing can changeThe good Lord always has been Always will be ever the same
And confusion mixed with illusion
All years only turn againWith one and one hundred names
Had all the rooms, our key is to changeNobody comes and nobody goes
No one is happy and no one has woes
Everything lasting, nothing can change
Nothing is ending, ever the sameAnd nothing's the same
It's never the same
