Shallow

Grim Skunk

All twisted, all wrapped up in mystique
You're dreaming, you're living in a movie
Self-conscious, uncertain, so much to prove
It must seem like the whole world's watching youYeah, it's Hollywood inside your mind
And your life is so shallow that you spend your time
In a superficial state of mindSo confused, so confused
When you gonna wake up
When you gonna use your mindIn silence, in solitude, what do you see
Are you all you've made yourself out to beYeah, it's Hollywood inside your mind
And your life is so shallow that you just can't find
Any lasting happiness insideCan they see right through you, what do they saySo wrapped up in your image, you're totally blind
I'll see you, I'll catch you some other timeYeah, it's Hollywood inside your mind
And you try to be someone that you're not inside
And the pressure's just too much sometimes
