

Did You Ever Get a Feeling of Dread?

The Suicide Machines

Did you ever get a feeling of dread?
That everything they're saying's not all that they've said Why do they want to take us to war, yeah
Why do they wanna put us in a government's war?
There's all this fighting and we don't know what for
So the rich get richer and the poor stay poor Did you ever get a feeling of dread?
That everything they're saying's not all that they've said Poisoning the earth and the ground
So, death comes swift it never makes a sound
The air is filled with carbon monoxide choke
On the diesel black clouds and the billowing smoke Why do people fight over religion and politics
I've spent most of my life trying to figure it
Out yeah, yeah, yeah it may be a question that Never gets answered it may result in some kind
Of final disaster and oh, what a shame it would
Be but it would set the world free Did you ever get a feeling of dread?
That everything they're saying's not all that they've said
Did you ever get a feeling of dread?
That everything they're saying's not all that they've said Did you ever get a feeling of dread?
That everything they're saying's not all that they've said
Did you ever get a feeling of dread?
That everything they're saying's not all that they've said
All that they've said, oh, yeah
