The Tanbark Is Hot Lava

dredg

The old returns while the new can bore
'Cuz you're the one who fell into a self created hell
We've worn it out, it took time to realize
It's a chore to recognize what your world could take It's overgrownTake it all away now
Real soon we'll take this all the way downThe old returns while the new can bore
'Cuz you're the one who fell into a self created hell
There is no way out when you build a stubborn shell
That shields from any help, we've worn it outYou tried to maximize but it came as no surprise
You hurled a stake to your own dome
Take it all away now
Real soon we'll take this all the way downPlease don't go, stayThe old returns while the new can bore
'Cuz you're the one who fell into a self created hell
There is no way out when you build a stubborn shell
That shields from any helpThe old returns while the new can bore
'Cuz you're the one who fell into a self created hell
Take it all away now, there is no way out
There is no way out when you build a stubborn shell
That shields from any help, we've worn it out
We've worn it out
