

Incarnation

Dynazty

Music: Magnusson/Molin. Lyrics: Molin

Our days have just begun but have we reached the end
We destroy the legacy that weâ€™ve strived so hard to defend
The flame thatâ€™s burning low in time will dissipate
Everything will be undone if our will won't incarnate

The final curtain call, the hour is at hand
We stand in front of the lines drawn firmly in the sand
The scent of victory infest within our minds
The light from above will descend and shine upon mankind

Our towers of sand are now falling
The dawn of a new world is calling
The chain of hatred dissolving
Our will is embodied

See the incarnation, creation.
Behold our transformation
The final step towards another life free of condemnation
Ascension, redemption
This is the incarnation
We are all related as our souls are incarnated

Weâ€™ve travelled for so long but our journeyâ€™s just begun
One step forward at a time and thy will shall be done
The holy remedy resides within our hearts
We rise and quickly we fall but we never fall apart

Our towers of stone are now rising
New dreams we are realizing
The dawning future enticing
The fireâ€™s ignited

See the incarnation, creation.
Behold our transformation
The final step towards another life free of condemnation
Ascension, redemption
This is the incarnation
We are all related as our souls are incarnated
