Oh Carolina

Vince Gill

Sunrise through the evergreens
Another day is born
The hills take on a golden glow
A Carolina mornI used to see you in her eyes
Now, I just got to know
Oh Carolina, how could you let her go?Oh Carolina, if I'd only known
Oh Carolina, I would have never goneI thought the beauty of your hills
Would hold her here for me
I never dreamed while I was gone
You'd ever set her freeI trusted you with all my heart
And the only love I've known
Oh Carolina, how could you let her go?Oh Carolina, if I'd only known
Oh Carolina, I would have never gone
Oh Carolina, if I'd only known
Oh Carolina, I would have never gone
I would have never gone
