

Farmer & His Gun

Charlie Simpson

Spoken like a young man
Trying to get himself on the wheel
My feet are forwards but I think I'm going backwards
I'm still
So far away from you

I called my brothers on the phone
Just to say goodbye
'Cuz I don't need another reason not to survive on my own
I'm moving on from here

Then I realise that I'll be on my own tonight
Shadows fold out like blankets on the ground

Run run rabbit run
Just don't get caught out by the farmer and his gun
Well hide hide rabbit hide
It's best to lose yourself before you ever lose your pride

Spoken like a true man
Trying to make his way through the fields
My back is feeling heavy and my heart is feeling empty
But still
I'm so far away from you

There's no use complaining to myself
I made these shoes to walk in
And they'll walk until the end

Then I realise that I will dream of you tonight
Shadows fold out like blankets on the ground

Run run rabbit run
Just don't get caught out by the farmer and his gun
Well hide hide rabbit hide
It's best to lose yourself before you ever lose your pride

Then I realise that I will dream of you tonight
Shadows fold out like blankets on the ground

Just run run rabbit run
Just don't get caught out by the farmer and his gun
Well hide hide rabbit hide
It's best to lose yourself before you ever lose your pride
Just never lose your pride
Just never lose your pride
Never lose your pride

Lyrics submitted by sam waring.

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnllyrics.com/>