

Drink Life To The Lees

Asteria

Simply slide in my sheets and simply fall asleep should she shatter my heart ans scatter these parts among the shaded streetsin a shallow attempt to save her skin then I simply wasn't shooting for the stars and tell me again are you the reason I breathe or why I die tryingand i reckon this weapon I yield this is her reason for revenge her chance to write the words I wrote her chance to take this from me trust I will find my way out i'll cut the throat to my better half and you could choose what you'd rather havecould my concern kill a car crash in her body as she swallows each pill kill her with kindness count on clouds to slow her downand I reckon this weapon I yield this is her reason for revenge
and you could choose what you'd rather have limp and lifeless my body without its frame scream my name three times if you love meit's the only way to save me crows can't fly with comets girl don't get caught in the current
