

I'll Be OK

Sondre Lerche

You who attacked my old heart with a glance
And you replaced it with something new
You ran away as the pendulum swung
I had only begun I'll be OK
I'll be OK You who replaced every beat that was false
And uptight like a metronome
You should've stayed 'cause that winter was long
But by dawn you were gone I'll be OK
I'll be OK You who resigned when I finally decided
That I was alive I'll be OK
I'll be OK I'll be OK
I'll be OK
