Zoo

Hatikva 6

I can no longer watch TV
Cause that shit really melts my brain
I think Im what they call sensitive
And easily thrown off my gameAll that bloodshed and pettiness
Just makes the world seem so insane
And I just feel drainedWhen I go to do my food shopping
And all I can see is the packaging
One big mountain of garbage
About to be happeningAnd I walk past my own self-loathing
Like I walk past animals in the zoo
Trying not to really see them
And the prison they didnt chooseIf I should ever quit your spotlight
I hope you wont think me wrong
Says the poet to the moonlight
Says the singer to the songIts enough just to stay upright
Upright in every single way
Pour your love into your children
Until theres nothing left to sayPour your love into your children
Until theres nothing left to say
