Silent

Tori Kelly

Wake up in a new day, but it don't feel that new, same faces around me with the same point of vieweverything is perfect, and everything's okay, just swallow the lies and let your emotions fade, but my heart won't be quiet, I feel a changeno more black and white, this life's too colorful, beautiful, don't know what lies ahead, butI'm ready now it's time, gotta go, gotta get out of this town, leave my fear behind, nothing left for me here can't stick around, my dreams are loud and my hearts wide awakeand all i know is, I'm not meant to be silentwake up to a new voice telling me where to go, sounds like I got no choice, but to keep on this roadGot my own opinion, my own words to say, got my own vision so I know I can't stay, there's no looking back now, I feel a changeI'm ready know it's time, gotta go, gotta get out of this town, leave my fear behind, nothing left for me hear can't stick around, my dreams are loud and my hearts wide awakeand all i know is, I'm not meant to be silentno more black and white, this life's too colorful, beautiful, don't know what lies ahead, butI'm ready know it's time,leave my fear behind, my dreams are loud and my hearts wide awakeand all i know is, I'm not meant to be silent(I'm ready know it's time, yeah)
gotta go, gotta get out of this town (and leave my fear behind me) nothing left for me hear can't stick around (I'm ready know it's time, yeah)(I'm ready know it's time, yeah)
gotta go, gotta get out of this town
(I'm ready know it's time, yeah)my dreams are loud and my hearts wide awakeand all i know is, I'm not meant to be silent
