The walls are moving closer now
Can you feel it, can you feel it?
You are not saved until you see the dawn
Set my Eden on fire now
You did it, you did it
Smoked out my soul once and for allI'm coming home tonight
Can we make it right?
Or twist a dagger in my back
You lit the fires in me that I never thought I had
Now it's nothing but a memory...Be patient, someday this pain will be useful, useful to you
Be patient, someday this pain will settle deep in you, deep in youThe helix is shattered now
You broke it, you broke it
The destruction of my entire existence
Drink the nectars of the shadow flower now
Contaminated
And sit back as it reaches for your heartBe patient, someday this pain will be useful, useful to you
Be patient, someday this pain will settle deep in you, deep in youIn the excavation of my human heart I found something
Something that I never knew existed...I'm coming home tonight
Can we make it right?
Or twist a dagger in my back
You lit the fires in me that I never thought I had
Now it's nothing but a memory...Be patient, someday this pain will be useful, useful to you
Be patient, someday this pain will settle deep in you, deep in youBe patient, someday this pain will be useful, useful to you
Be patient, someday this pain will settle deep in you, deep in you
