

All Ends Well

Alter Bridge

If I could ease your mind
Calm the storm inside
Pull your drifting heart back from the cruel and bitter time
Show you that tomorrow everything will be just fine
All in due time
AllSomewhere down the road your scars will show
Somewhere down the road your heart grows cold
Youre almost home
If you believe in nothing else
Just keep believing in yourself
There will be times of trouble thats gonna hurt like hell
This much I know
all ends well
It all ends wellIf I could heal the scars
And show you what you are
Id bind the wounds of disbelief that brought you down so hard
I would be the tourniquet around your doubting heart
All In due time..
All..Somewhere down the road you scars will show
Somewhere down the road your heart grows cold
Youre almost home.
If you believe in nothing else
Just keep believing yourself
There will be times of trouble thats gonna hurt like hell
This much I know
All ends well
It all ends wellSo hard to see, so hard to find
So hard to find
.all that you need will come in time
Will come in time..
These words I wish, your heart and mineYou have so much to give
Wont you live
Wont you live a little moreIf you believe in nothing else
Just keep believing in yourself
There will be times of trouble thats gonna hurt like hell
This much I know, all ends well
This much I know, all ends well
This much I know, all ends well
This much I know, all ends well

This much I know, all ends well.

Lyrics provided by <https://damnyrics.com/>