I Hate My Generation

Sloan

What could you both possibly share?
(Other than the color of your hair)
Sean said, "We both play guitar"Never even have to say a word
That's the best thing that I ever heard
You have left a fingerprint on meJust dust and then you'll surely see
I've got my reservations
And I hate my generationIf I was born in the 40's
I'd be a teen in the 50's
And maybe I watch too much TVMaybe
Maybe it's my fault
I should take it with a grain of saltI've got my hesitations
Wait on your generationS E A N S A I D
P L A Y, yeah, yeah, yeah, yeah
S E A N S A I D
P L A Y, yeah, yeah, yeah, yeahMaybe
Maybe it's my fault
I should take it with a grain of saltWhat could you both possibly share?
(Other than the color of your hair)
Sean said, "We both play guitar"Never even have to say a word
That's the best thing that I ever heard
I have got my reservations
As I skate by my generation

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/