

How Many Times, How Many Lies?

The Pussycat Dolls

They where tryin' to tell me somethin'
Hope that I was hearing nothing
When they said that you was just playin' me
I didn't listen, I didn't want to
You couldn't find a blinder fool

I'm here, searching through the wreckage
Wondering why the message never got through
And I've found, I misplaced all my faith
How could I put my faith in you?

[Chorus]

How many times, how many lies?
How long you been sleepin'?
How long you been creepin' around?
How many lies, how many times?
Were you here deceivin'
While I was here believin' in you

Gotta put the blame on my self
Should have known that everyone knew
Knew that you were just bad news
I shoulda walked out (shoulda walked out)
Shoulda have seen clear (shoulda seen clear)
Lied, you sad ass right is outta here

I've gone, and thrown out all the records
All the ones that ever reminded me of you
I've gone, and torn up all the pictures
Cause there was not one shred of truth

[Chorus]

There was so many times
There was so many lies
I don't know why I stayed around
There was so many days so, many games
I should of thrown you sad ass out
Only the dumbest fool would ever trust in you
I finally got wise.

I opened up my eyes.

The game is over

I've gone, and thrown out all the records

All the ones that ever reminded me of you

I've gone, and torn up all the pictures

Cause there was not one shred of truth

[Chorus:Repeat x2]

Lyrics powered by lyrics.tancode.com

written by WARREN, DIANE

Lyrics Â© RealSongs

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnyrics.com/>