Day Dream Land

Jewel

Deep in the canyon down in the old woods where the hermit thrushes sing, I sit where the sun shines in a ferny circle and fly away on daydreams wings.

I fly and I fly to my daydream land,
I fly and I fly till the sun goes down,
I fly and I fly till the moon comes up,
and then I fly back home.
And then I fly back home.
