Strength

Refused

A complex structure, a full circle of hate
The victory was already there but now it's too late
A harmony to achieve in the simplest of ways
Torn to shreds inside, determent to lose that fateStrength and determination, what's there to gain?
An insight of insight, an attitude that will remain
A habit of standing, on a solid foundation
A reason to carry on is what is foundWe only use the useless and then we forget
We build our lives out of nothing
The meaning seems meaningless
