Soundscapes & Lullabies

BEDlight for blueEYES

in the perfect quiet
of my after hours bed
i drift to sleep love
to the beat of the rhythms in my head darkness settles in
and i have want to dream soundscapes and lullabies deliver methese clouds are weeping frozen tears pile round my feet we mourn together love without you i'm incompletethe cold it shrouds me like the ghost of your embrace reaching out to hold you but the wind gives awaythe hours on the clock seem to stop when i'm thinking about you it always seems to rain when my pain is just too muchyou are all i want you are my every reason i am seething but baby you don't seem to carewe will rise the day is done, but we're not over we'll fall in love tonight we will rise
the day is done, but we're not overin the perfect quiet
darkness settles in
