

A Chain of Flowers

The Cure

Please wake up, it's so dark and cold
Please wake up, I feel so alone
And I feel so scared that you're going away
And I feel so scared All I want is summer stories from before
Just like the day you tried to hide
Behind the churchyard wall And fell asleep before I came
I found you in a chain of flowers
Sleeping like a marble girl
Sleeping in another world I'll never tell you of all the different ways
You make me so afraid, yeah Please wake up, it's so dark and cold
Please wake up, I feel so alone
And I feel so scared that you're going away
And I feel so scared that you're going away I'll never tell you of all the different ways
All the different ways, you make me so afraid
