Juliet

Everon

What a happy couple
These two used to be
Just like Romeo and Juliet
In perfect harmonySee them now...Every secret wish he ever had
She read from his eyes
And so did he with hers
To her great delight
Such true luck don't come often
But when it comes, then it comesSee them now...
Take a look at them nowIn her eyes, in her eyes
There was all he desired
For a love that would last forever and a dayOn their way to heaven
Somehow they both lost track
Just a few steps off the main road
But enough to not find a way backSee them now...His sensitivity she loved
Did last just for a while
So did her bedroom voice
And her Sunday smile
Her true face doesn't show often
But when it shows, then it showsSee them now...
Take a look at them nowIn her eyes, in her eyes
There was all he desired
For a love that would last forever and a dayIn her eyes, in her eyes
He sees all he despises
As all her disguises
Got lost along the wayRomeo is bleeding
While Juliet gladly smiles
'Cause only when he's bleeding
Juliet feels alrightIn her eyes, in her eyes
There was all he desired
For a love that would last forever and a dayIn her eyes, in her eyes
He sees all he despises
As all her disguises
Got lost along the wayRomeo is bleeding
While Juliet gladly smiles
'Cause only when he's bleeding
Juliet feels alrightShe knows that she can kill him
With just a word or two
So the last thing that he heard

Was her voice saying "I love you"
