

7 Towers

Yowler

Put the hurt on me, gave you everything
Never one to freeze over and be wondering
Several followers at the bottom of a rock-salted ledge
Far from my SelfIt's all you wanted
And the power is fallen from seven towers
Rise up and falter againCover up this one, should be Honored
From the sight of blood; should be higher up than
Now the Summer falls, loving water runs into dirtied streets of saddened offerings
It's all you wanted
The power is fallen from seven towers
Rise up and falter again
