

Time Flies

Pete Philly & Perquisite

Haven't you noticed how time flies
man sometimes I feel old
Haven't you noticed how time flies
can't believe how much I've grown
Haven't you noticed how time flies
man sometimes I feel old
Haven't you noticed how time flies

It only seems like It's today when I walked in the park with my boys and I was smokin all of that weed Rollin papers and a few blunts and the sunshine was all we need We used to skate, irritate older davers
I swear yo they hated me A good day, wasn't a good day unless I'd land a trick and they'd see it

Today I remenisce and say it was all just fun and games We used to play then back in the day and now I realise that before the day I'm old and grey I gotta make each day count
'cause the ammount of the hours is slippin away

Haven't you noticed how time flies
man sometimes I feel old
Haven't you noticed how time flies
can't believe how much I've grown
man sometimes I feel old
Haven't y'all noticed how time flies

I know you've send me some e-mails and call me about this 'nd times and I haven't been callin you back But nowadays yo my life kinda crazy the tours and (..) then I'm back I know you had some ups and some downs tell me where you've been livin' at I hope that all you're ambitions and you're dreams and you're hopes are still in tact yo just let me know when you wanna walk too my door so we can chat and relax just some facts drinkin sixpacs after that's capable We guys just don't do that no more I wish time was a little more slow But it's not, just come to my spot let the memories flow

Haven't you noticed how time flies
man sometimes I feel old
Haven't you noticed how time flies
can't believe how much I've grown
man sometimes I feel old
Haven't y'all noticed how time flies

Haven't you noticed how time flies,
man sometimes I feel old
Haven't you noticed how time flies,
can't believe how much I've grown
Haven't you noticed how time flies,
man sometimes I feel old
Haven't y'all noticed how time flies...
