Suspended Animation

Militia

A sound of silence fills my brain
Awaiting subconscious to drift off again
As time will feel its presence I've nothing left to feel
This pain I've sustained is a hell
With no visible fate time standing still
A resting place a lapsing memory
Releases altered states
A darkened feeling of terror
Numbing what's left of my mind and my soul
Wasting away
No can this be I am falling in farther
No one can hear my screams I've embedded
With fear
Falling and falling in deeper and deeper again
Suspended through state after state
Never an end
To see ones state of mind slip far beyond
The edges of time
Never an end
So it be I've drifted too far
All that is left is my mind now so serene
This passage is final
Acceptance is not to believe
Falling and falling again
No one one can hear
No one will ever listen again
