

Velvet Covered Brick

Anberlin

Cyclical
Stuck inside a never ending rhyme
But you're comfortable
Just another decomposing alibis
Sing yourself to sleep
Count the days gone by
But outside of your walls passes real life
So here's a velvet covered brick
Death comes to us all too quick
Here's your chance to live, but I heard you say oh "We're heading nowhere
It's not close to them
Even horizons can fade
Hope says she's never a saint
They're all waiting on a prayer
If we're heading nowhere "Turbulence
Am I causing you to think outside a cell for once
Just feel comfortable
Dissolving years like no one else before
And I said, lead to where you are Lead your way through this
But fear and fail has made you its captive, it's passive
So here's a velvet covered brick
Death comes to us all too quick
Here's your chance to love, but I heard you scream, oh! "We're heading nowhere
It's not close to them
Even horizons can fade
Hope says she's never a saint
They're all waiting on a prayer
If we're heading nowhere "Even horizons can fade
Hope says she's never a saint
They're all waiting on a prayer "We're heading nowhere
It's not close to them
Even horizons can fade
Hope says she's never a saint
They're all waiting on a prayer
If we're heading nowhere
