

You Rescued Me

Jamie O'Neal

I was a traveler travelin' alone
Crossin' that desert they call the unknown
Lost in a valley of shadows and sinking sand
Hopeless was circling over my head
Patiently waiting for my last step
I was a desperate woman in no man's land Like an angel of mercy, emotional savior
You took me in your arms and out of danger You rescued me in the nick of time
I was right on the edge of goin' out of my mind
I was runnin' on empty, down to a crawl
Facing a future with no one at all
And just before I found out
How life without love could be, you rescued me The mind can play tricks when you're wanderin' out there
Making up visions out of thin air
That's why I thought I was dreamin' when you appeared
But your touch had feeling, your kisses were real
Your voice echoed like a song on a hill
Somehow you knew what my heart needed to hear Yeah, like an angel of mercy, emotional savior
You took me in your arms and out of danger You rescued me in the nick of time
I was right on the edge of goin' out of my mind
I was runnin' on empty, down to a crawl
Facing a future with no one at all
And just before I found out
How life without love could be, you rescued me You rescued me in the nick of time
I was right on the edge of goin' out of my mind
I was runnin' on empty, down to a crawl
Facing a future with no one at all
And just before I found out how life without love could be You rescued me in the nick of time
I was right on the edge of goin' out of my mind
I was runnin' on empty, down to a crawl
Facing a future with no one at all And you rescued me in the nick of time
I was right on the edge of goin' out of my mind
I was runnin' on empty, down to a crawl
Facing a future with no one at all You rescued me in the nick of time
I was right on the edge of goin' out of my mind
