

You Rescued Me

Jamie O'Neal

I was a traveler travelin' alone
Crossin' that desert they call the unknown
Lost in a valley of shadows and sinking sand
Hopeless was circling over my head
Patiently waiting for my last step

I was a desperate woman in no man's land
Like an angel of mercy, emotional savior
You took me in your arms and out of danger
You rescued me in the nick of time

I was right on the edge of goin' out of my mind
I was runnin' on empty, down to a crawl
Facing a future with no one at all
And just before I found out

How life without love could be, you rescued me
The mind can play tricks when you're wanderin' out there
Making up visions out of thin air

That's why I thought I was dreamin' when you appeared
But your touch had feeling, your kisses were real
Your voice echoed like a song on a hill

Somehow you knew what my heart needed to hear
Yeah, like an angel of mercy, emotional savior
You took me in your arms and out of danger
You rescued me in the nick of time

I was right on the edge of goin' out of my mind
I was runnin' on empty, down to a crawl
Facing a future with no one at all
And just before I found out

How life without love could be, you rescued me
You rescued me in the nick of time
I was right on the edge of goin' out of my mind
I was runnin' on empty, down to a crawl
Facing a future with no one at all

And just before I found out how life without love could be
You rescued me in the nick of time

I was right on the edge of goin' out of my mind
I was runnin' on empty, down to a crawl
Facing a future with no one at all
And you rescued me in the nick of time
I was right on the edge of goin' out of my mind
I was runnin' on empty, down to a crawl

Facing a future with no one at all
You rescued me in the nick of time
I was right on the edge of goin' out of my mind
