Jaded (These Years)

Mest

There's a time and place for everything
There's a reason why, certain people meet
There's a destination for everyone
What's the explanation, when we're done?All the summer nights spent wondering
So many questions asked, but no one's answering
Would it be okay if I left today?
Took my chances on what you said was wrong?I'm jaded, stupid, and reckless
Not sorry and I'll never regret
These years spent, so faded and reckless
Not sorry and I'll never regret these years
I'll never regret these yearsNow here I sit so far away
Remembering all our memories
It's times like these that I miss you most Remembering when we were so closeI'm jaded, stupid, and reckless
Not sorry and I'll never regret
These years spent, so faded and reckless
Not sorry and I'll never regret these yearsWe'll never forget the places we've been, you and I
Our lives are slipping away
Don't want to let time pass us by, byI'm jaded, stupid, and reckless
Not sorry and I'll never regret
These years spent, so faded and reckless
Not sorry and I'll never regret
I'm jaded, stupid, and reckless
Not sorry and I'll never regret these years
