And the Psychic Saw

Atheist

And so the psychic saw
Meaningful ends and the thrill of it all
To be an equal of infinity's divine
Searching the cosmos for erected confinesBursting within the motherland
The excess soon will exceed demand that I seeMan's existence is to form resistance
The timeless reluctance, the all forgotten purpose
Your spectacle of actions is the tell tale of my visionsAnd I sawOh, now I see it clear
You wish to be relieved of all fear
Don't worry yourself, prepare your sensesUntil the knowledge commences
And so the psychic saw
Visions the land and sea, beautyAnd so the psychic saw meaningful ends
Become the meaning of it all
To set the stage for the fears that will be
To pull the curtain for the whole world to see
