Give it to me
And I'll love you higher
Who do you want to be?
Well they're so excited
You think you know everything
And it makes it harder
You don't know anything
It comes and goes The whole world covered in gasoline
And burning alive
I feel taken advantage of
And empty inside All the planets float away, a-hey
A million stars light up my face
When you look at it
Slowing to read
And it gets me higher
Who am I gonna be?
I have no excitement
I thought I knew everything
And it got me higher
I don't know anything
That comes or goes The whole world covered in gasoline
And burning alive
I feel taken advantage of
And empty inside All the planets float away, a-hey
A million stars light up my face
When you look at it
The whole world covered in gasoline
And burning alive
I feel taken advantage of
And empty inside All the planets float away, a-hey
A million stars light up my face
When you look at it All the planets float away, a-hey
A million stars light up my face
When you look at it
