Nervous Lonely Night

Jessica Lea Mayfield

i didn't mean to fuel the fire now i'm alone watching flames go higher drunk on thoughts of you red wine and tequila toowill you still be my friend when i go crazy will you still be my friend when i go insane will you still be my friend when i go crazy will you still be my friend when i go insanetime moves so fast i don't know what to do feels like every day i'm in love with someone new but i don't have the nerve to follow through so i dream about the night i spent with youwill you still be my friend when i go crazy
will you still be my friend when i go insanewill you still be my friend when i go crazy
