

No Tomorrow

Hypocrisy

Bright lights, is there anybody out there?
From the sky something's coming my way
It knocked me down, I'm paralyzed
Except my mind something else is in control of me
Strapped down to a bench I lie
Performing surgery, I'm open wide
My life just got simplified
I can't believe I'm gonna die
Dwelling in the unknown
I won't see tomorrow, they're stealing my life
They're drilling into my soul
I can't see tomorrow, I am out of time
They keep me alive so they can test my strength
Pumping my body dry
I cannot feel anything anymore
I guess this is my goodbye
Strapped down to a bench I lie
Performing surgery, I'm open wide
My life just got simplified
I can't believe I'm gonna die
Dwelling in the unknown
I won't see tomorrow, they're stealing my life
They're drilling into my soul
I can't see tomorrow, I am out of time
There is no tomorrow
They're stealing my life
