Wedding Song

Bob Dylan

I love you more than ever, more than time and more than love
I love you more than money and more than the stars above
Love you more than madness, more than dreams upon the sea
I love you more than life itself, you mean that much to meEver since you walked right in, the circles been complete

I say goodbye to haunted rooms and faces in the street To the courtyards of the jester which is hidden from the sun

I love you more than ever and I haven't yet begunYou breathed on me and made my life a richer one to live When I was deep in poverty you taught me how to give

Dried the tears up from my dreams and pulled me from the hole

I love you more than ever and it burns me to the soulYou gave me babies one, two, three, what is more, you saved my life

Eye for eye and tooth for tooth, your love cuts like a knife My thoughts of you don't ever rest, they'd kill me if I lie

But I'd sacrifice the world for you and watch my senses dieThe tune that is yours and mine to play upon this earth

Well, play it out the best we know, whatever it is worth What's lost is lost, we can't regain what went down in the flood

But happiness to me is you and I love you more than bloodIt's never been my duty to remake the world at large

Nor is it my intentions to sound a battle charge

'Cause I love you more than all of that with a love that doesn't bend

And if there is eternity I'll love you there againOh, can't you see that you were born to stand by my side

And I was born to be with you, you were born to be my bride

You're the other half of what I am, you're the missing piece

And I love you more than ever with that love that doesn't ceaseYou turn the tide on me each day and teach my eyes to see

Just bein' next to you is a natural thing for me
And I could never let you go, no matter what goes on
'Cause I love you more than ever, now that the past is gone
