Do You Still Need Me

La Bouche

Do you still need me, there's a look in your eyes
You wouldn't leave me, not for a moment
'Cause when your sleeping, you don't reach out to hold me tight
I'm a fool for those things like you still need meDo you still love me, is it love anyway
You live in you world, and I can't follow
If you still need me, then I wish I could hear you say
I'm a fool for those things like you still love me(What ya gonna do, what ya gonna do
What ya gonna do if I can't tell you)
I can't tell you
(What ya gonna do, What ya gonna do)
(What ya gonna do)
If I run awayDo you still need me, do tears cloud my mind
Sometimes I wonder, just where were heading
I can remember, those we had were the best of times
I'm a fool for those things like you still need me(What ya gonna do, what ya gonna do
What ya gonna do if I can't tell you)
I can't tell you
(What ya gonna do, What ya gonna do)
(What ya gonna do)
If I run awayI'll never go never go till I hear you sayDo you still need me, like you did the first time
You wouldn't leave me, not for a moment
Where are your kisses, that would keep me awake all night
I'm a fool for those things like you still need meDo you still love me, was it love anyway
You live in you world, and I can't follow
If you still need me, then I wish I could hear you say
I'm a fool for those things like you still love meDo you still need me, there's a look in your eyes
You wouldn't leave me, not for a moment
'Cause when your sleeping, you don't reach out to hold me tight
I'm a fool for those things like you still need me
