Worth the Fight

Broods

Something tipped me over Someone knocked me down
Emptied out my inside
Poured it on the groundA cavern for a body,
The deeper darker kind
For all I hear are echoes,
Repeat inside my mind
I thought the shade around me,
was making me feel blind
I thought I was a hero,
but I was just a childSo fill me up and let me try
To show you beauty from inside
I pray I will, I pray I might Still be somebody worth the fightSomething brings me closer to the sadder sounds Builds the world around me that once burnt to the groundA cavern for a body,
the deeper darker kind
For all I hear are echoes,
repeat inside my mind
I thought the shade around me,
was making me feel blind
I thought I was a hero,
but I was just a childSo fill me up and let me try
To show you beauty from inside
I pray I will, I pray I might Still be somebody worth the fight
Be somebody, be somebody, be somebody, be somebodyI won't let you down
I won't let you downSo fill me up and let me try (fill me up and let me try)
To show you beauty from inside
I pray I will, I pray I might (pray I will, I pray I might) Still be somebody worth the fight (I won't let you down)
So fill me up and let me try (fill me up and let me try)
To show you beauty from inside (show you beauty from inside)
I pray I will, I pray I might (pray I will, I pray I might) (I won't let you down)
Still be somebody worth the fight

Songwriters
JOEL LITTLE, GEORGIA NOTT, CALEB NOTT, EMMIE LITTLEPublished by

Lyrics Â© Sony/ATV Music Publishing LLC

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/