

Alice White

Marie Little

I took my lovely Alice White
Up on the mountain top last night
I picked her up there at the station
She never reached her destination.

Pulled out my pistol and I shot her down
She ran out on me
Me and the boys, we all agreed
Yeah, Alice, you were always there for me.

The sun was goin' down
We finished off another round
Red everywhere, red all around
I threw her body on the ground.

Pulled out my pistol and I shot her down
She ran out on me
I shot her down, I shot her down now
Me and the boys, we all agreed
Hey Alice, you were always there for me.

We had a real good time
She treated me so kind
She just gets better with time
Oh, Alice. what a fine red wine.

I pulled out my pistol and I shot her down
She ran out on me
I shot her down, I shot her down
Me and the boys, we all agreed
Old Alice, she was always good to me.

Yeah, pulled out my pistol and I shot her down
She walked out on me
Shot her down, shot her down, shot her down now
Me and the boys, we all agreed
Hey Alice, you were always there for me (yeah, yeah, yeah, yeah)
