

All The Best Cowboys Have Daddy Issues

Senses Fail

My father's sins are out tonight
My father's sins are out tonight
I haven't seen him in years
I haven't seen him in years My mother's sins are out tonight
My mother's sins are out tonight
I haven't loved her in years
I haven't loved her Let's hear a toast for loneliness
(Here's a toast for loneliness)
Sometimes it just makes so much sense
(Sometimes it just makes so much sense) For every night I drink alone
(Every night I drink alone)
I'm happier than I could have ever known
(I'm happier than I could have ever known) My family sins are out tonight
My family sins are out tonight
My skin is on the run
My skin is on the run My private sins are out tonight
My private sins are out tonight
My skin is on the run
My skin is on the run My skin is on the run I'm not waiting
I'm not waiting Let's hear a toast for loneliness
(Here's a toast for loneliness)
Sometimes it just makes so much sense
(Sometimes it just makes so much sense) For every night I drink alone
(Every night I drink alone)
I'm happier than I could have ever known
(I'm happier than I could have ever known) I'm not waiting
I'm not waiting I'm betting dreams upon my paper wings
Because flying isn't just for kings
I take the stairs to the very top floor
I paid the super to leave open the door A perfect sunset is sinking in the sky
I know my body is ready to fly
I start the countdown backwards from ten
When I reach one my family name will end Falling down as windows pass I start to cry
And curse the day my parents laid
In a bed of hopelessness
Where love was made, please mark my grave 'Unknown' Let's hear a toast for loneliness
(Here's a toast for loneliness)
Sometimes it just makes so much sense
(Sometimes it just makes so much sense) For every night I drink alone

(Every night I drink alone)
I'm happier than I could have ever known
(I'm happier than I could have ever known)Here I lie
Here I lie
