

The Drop

The Nextmen

Moving down the fuselage
Toward the open door
Catch you looking down outside
To see what lies ahead
 One by one
 You watch them fall
 Fall through cloud
 One by one
 You watch them fall
No idea where they're going
 But down
 Where they've gone

 Where they've gone
Watching as the sun goes down
 I sit inside this plane
 Notice how the city lights
Are like the nerves inside the brain
 One by one
 They're going out
 You watch them dim
 One by one
 You watch them fall
And wonder where they're falling to
