

Goodnight Moon

Vagabond Opera

(It's been a beautiful night.)

Raise your glass to the dead that's departed, today's gone by
Raise your glass. Let's end where we started, good night, good night
Fly away, let's go home, one last toast, rainy night, dream in bed
Kiss goodbye, clasp my hand, cheer to all and I salute the dead
Say goodnight to the friends we have made here and goodnight moon

Thirty five. I was old when I started to sing this song
T'irty six steals round the corner I won't be long

Singing here with you by all the conundrums have disappeared

Hold my hand

Warm my heart

Rainy nights

Life's too short;

Fades too soon

Say goodnight to the friends we have made here and goodnight moon

I'm alive and sometimes I know it; here's to those times

I'm in love with the sea salt, the spit, with the palms, the grime
Eat the world with a spoon,
Drink it down,
Sing to it,
Write a song

What's all the mysteries, night glow, and bittersweet love in blue

Say goonight to the friends we have made here and goodnight moon
What the hell! Let's get drunk on each other and dance all night

Oh what the hell! Let's roll out those battles, another fight

Sordid life, lusty heart, highest crimes lure us on. I submit

Kiss me again and again and again and again, this fire is lit
Say goodnight to the friends we have made here and goodnight moon

Sing a song, a three pennied vagabond warm with rye

Sing a song of six pents and blackbirds baked in a pie

Oh once I was happy, no now I am happy with you tonight

Since Ala's passing, sing melodies, twilight comes too soon

Say goodnight to the friends we have made here and goodnight moon

Raise your glass to the dead that's departed, today's gone by
Raise your glass, let's end where we started goodnight goodnight

Oh fly away, let's go home, one last toast, rainy night, dream in bed

Kiss me again and again and again and again

This fire is lit

Say goodnight to the friends we have made here and goodnight moon

Say goodnight to the friends we have made here and goodnight moon
