I Know it Hurts

Goldenboy

I thought it mattered, thought it could make sense
The fear inside, the art of making friends
I know it hurts, I know it...
Truly believed you, when you were opening up
Wanted to help out to get you back on top
I know it hurts, I know it hurts, I know it hurts
'cause this is your time to apologize
Go straight ahead, don't think twice
I'm never coming back, never coming back
You'll do this on your own
'cause all the lies, stories and promises
Seem to push us to the end
Never coming back, never coming back,
you'll do this on your own
Hunting attention is all you really want
More than affection, you seem to miss the point
I know it hurts, it burns you out, it brings me down
