Heart Is Weak

Michael Johns

You can think and control all of this thing
But you just bought the ticket on the runaway trip
You can think that love can never put no changes on youThat ain't true, that ain't true
You can look away when she looks in your eyes
And you can try, try to keep her off your mindBut the heart is weak and love is so strong, yeah
And you just can't fight it, don't bother trying
You're in deep, you've been knocked up your feet, yeah
You know the heart is weak, so weak, so weak yeahYou can sing, you can stop in anytime
But you know the brakes are broken and driven over the line
You can climb your feet don't even know there's no escapeYou're too gone, it's too late
Don't you know that it don't matter what you have planned
But does it does it now it's out of your handThe heart is weak, love is so strong, yeah, yeah, yeah
But you just can't fight it, don't bother trying
You're in deep, oh, oh, you're knocked up your feet
You know the heart is weak, so weak, so weak yeahYou know, thought you ever knew
I am stronger but I'm confused
Love's got no wheel now and love's got you blind
Can drive you out, out of your mindBut the heart is weak, love is so strong, yeah
You just can't fight it, oh, you're in deep
You're knocked up your feet, yeah
You know the heart is weak, so weak, so weakSo weak, so weak, so weak, yeah
I can't give nothing, no, no return, yeah
So weak, so weak, yeah, so weak, so weak
