Ghosts

New Empire

This conversation is moving faster than I thought it would
An indication, something I thought I'd lost long ago
It's just like learning to swim; I've fallen in the deeper end, again
So would you chase me in, or for you is it pretend?Cus I don't want to feel without you, so tell me you believe in this too
Hide with all the ghosts in your bedroom, they will keep you awake
We can escape, escape
We can escapeThis conversation is moving faster than I thought it could
I'm chasing shadows as they surround you in this empty room
It's just like running a maze; you never know what you can find, tonight
But as we're here now, everything in me wants to tryWe could chase this feeling
But I just want youCus I don't want to feel without you, so tell me you believe in this too
Hide with all the ghosts in your bedroom, they will keep you awake
We can escape, escape
We can escape, escapeWhen I was younger I would dream of this moment, and how I thought it would never come
Now we're older I will dream of this moment, the city puts a ghost in usWe could chase this feeling
But I just want youCus I don't want to feel without you, so tell me you believe in this too
Hide with all the ghosts in your bedroom; they will keep you awake...
We can escape, escape
We can escape, escapeWhen I was younger I would dream of this moment, and how I thought it would never come
Now we're older I will dream of this moment, the city puts a ghost in us
Make an escape
