Good As New

Aiden Moore

Stuck in between the threads and the seams you hold to your dreams and try to believe in something sometimes you give in people they come lately they go here for a while then leave you alone where you started i won't leave your side don't you forget all that's broken we'll be mended soon

though your bones break
they'll take new shape
and be good as new

i'll be around to hold you to me lost in the crowd but you're all i see and i'm wanting to never let you down

good as new
